PHARMOS NATUR will enable you to enjoy the unique power of carefully selected and precious adaptogenic rejuvenating and regenerating plants. SACRED PLANTS.

These sacred plants are handled with great mindfulness. All of the plants active ingredients, intense light energy and high vibrations are preserved

- in precious care products- with pure organic aloe vera instead of water- without alcohol and common preservatives
- in valuable face and body care oils
- in Lebensgesundmitteln® for beauty care from the inside, which will help you to stay healthy, and to regenerate and rejuvenate yourself.

You can feel the intensity and effect of these plants on your skin after one treatment. You can trust this quality especially if you have sensitive skin.

The highlight of your PHARMOS NATUR treatment is to experience our unique fresh aloe vera leaf. Your skin will absorb the moisturizing gel completely. A complex network of powerful active ingredients nourishes, repairs and regenerates your cells. Our products can slow the aging process down considerably. Youthful radiance, freshness and liveliness will permeate through your skin and contribute to your complete well-being!

Why use aloe vera instead of water as the basis for the products?

It's a very special aloe vera - from Ecuador and Yucatán. It is blessed with an incredible treasure trove of active ingredients. Due to its viscosity and consistency, the aloe vera gel is completely absorbed into the skin, taking all the active ingredients of the other precious healing and rejuvenating plants with it. On the other hand, water remains on the skin's surface. The holistically produced, organic juice used by PHARMOS NATUR has properties that are very similar to those of the cell fluid in the body. You feel and see this pure plant power with each application and experience the effect of unadulterated nature.

Deep well-being and visible results on the skin

The rich active ingredient complex of aloe vera in combination with various medicinal and rejuvenating plants has a cell repairing effect and improves cell communication. It influences the cell-matrix in a great and positive way. Oxidative processes are prevented and the cells are supplied with rich nutrients, so they are able to do their work in abundance. Deposited cell waste is removed. The blood vessels are elastic and can supply the cells well with nutrients. Collagen and elastic connective tissue can regenerate repeatedly. The skin remains tight for a long time and radiates youthfulness. The appearance and health of the skin is improved in the long term and premature aging is slowed down.

Face and body treatments

You feel and see the intensity and effectiveness on your skin already after the first treatment. Experience touch with high attentiveness and feel how your individual needs are perceived. You will gain new strength, your body will feel liberated, you can let go of old things. Tension and stress are released. Your life energy comes back into flow. This means freshness, liveliness and lightness.

Enjoy how the use of extraordinary products and the Aloe Vera fresh plant leaf works wonders on and deep inside your skin.
